Big Pharma In Outrage Over Jeanine Pirro's Latest Business Venture - She Fires Back With This!

By Brit Hume | Fox News

(Fox) - Jeanine Pirro has always been a champion of free speech and unrestricted small business, but her latest project still came as a surprise when she revealed her new CBD line on Live TV last week. Pharmaceutical companies were outraged saying they will be filing a lawsuit against Pirro and her partners for violating her contracts and undercutting their prices. She responded with this:

"When I started this whole thing back in 2018, it really was just a part-time passion project and a way for me to give back. After being given so much, I figured there was no better time to make Green Country CBD Oil available to everyone, as it can help thousands of people experience life pain-free and live much happier lives."

Her product, Green Country CBD Oil, has been flying off the shelves within minutes and Pirro says her number one struggle as CEO is being able to keep up with demand. Her CBD wellness line is 90% cheaper and five times more effective than those being offered by Bayer and other "Big Pharma" companies.

Bayer and Purdue Pharma were furious after seeing a massive dip in their sales, calling for Pirro to be indicted, saying: "We're happy Mrs. Pirro found something to replace prescriptions, but her announcement was a direct breach of contract. Epic Records should fire her immediately and she should formally apologize."

Jeanine appeared on Live TV again the next day, not to apologize, but to offer viewers free samples.

"I'm not going to let these companies intimidate me," she fired back during her appearance. "Our product, Green Country CBD Oil, has helped me my family not just cope with our what ails us but to thrive! I am so confident in it that I'm offering free samples to everyone. Green Country CBD Oil is the product of thousands of hours of research and development. I wouldn't talk about something on air I don't believe in and give to my family."
