JUST IN: All 8 Supreme Court Justices Stand In Solidarity Against Trump SCOTUS Pick

In a move no one saw coming, all eight Supreme Court Justices have turned their backs on Trump, rejecting his nominee to fill Antonin Scalia's empty seat. Until now, it was believed that Obama's pick, Merrick Garland, didn't stand a chance as Republicans held out on voting for the Justice until Obama was out of office.

However, it seems as though there may be a glimmer of hope left. All eight of the current justices agree that President Trump is completely wrong in choosing Neil Gorsuch to fill the ninth seat on the Supreme Court bench. The letter cited a 2008 ruling by Gorsuch as reason.

According to Think Progress:

"GORSUCH ESSENTIALLY CONCLUDED THAT SCHOOL DISTRICTS COMPLY WITH THEIR OBLIGATION TO DISABLED STUDENTS SO LONG AS THEY PROVIDE THOSE STUDENTS WITH A LITTLE MORE THAN NOTHING."

While Trump was attempting to persuade Congress of reasons Gorsuch would be a good choice, Chief Justice John Roberts penned a letter from the Supreme Court that addressed the issues with Gorsuch's "approach" being "the law of the land."

The justices say the decision Gorsuch made in 2008 wasn't right because:

"A focus on the particular child is at the core of the IDEA. The instruction offered must be 'specially designed' to meet a child's 'unique needs' through an '[i]ndividualized education program.'"

"When all is said and done, a student offered an educational program providing "merely more than de minimis" progress from year to year can hardly be said to have been offered an education at all. For children with disabilities, receiving instruction that aims so low would be tantamount to "sitting idly . . . awaiting the time when they were old enough to 'drop out.'"

This will certainly lead to a massive White House tantrum, as the petulant Trump realizes that he's been ganged up on by a group of people with more than 100 times the intelligence he has.

This is reality in 2017. America is one big episode of The Jerry Springer Show.
